City, EMU reach accord on University Park probe

Eastern Michigan University and the city of Romulus are one step closer to making the proposed University Park campus a reality.

It was announced Monday that the university and city have reached an agreement on a contract, which will provide for a marketing study of the demand for educational services by adults in the area.

The contract is the result of negotiations between the university and Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally in an effort to involve EMU in providing educational services through a future Romulus Center in a proposed University Park. The proposed university park is a 300 acre site north of I-94 and west of Merriman Road, adjacent to several existing hotels, presently under development as a management and conference center, designed to serve the region's business and industrial community. A central part of the concept is a facility, which would provide educational services to individual and corporate clients.

"The city of Romulus approached Eastern Michigan University," Roy Wilbanks, assistant to the president for government and community relations, said Monday, "concerning its interest in providing these educational services. We agreed the concept was attractive and had merit. We are now at the point of undertaking a study to determine the demand for educational services at this particular site."

According to McAnally, the purpose of the study is twofold: "On one hand it will assure the EMU people of what we are already convinced of, that Romulus is the right place for such a facility. It will, in addition to that, give them a better idea regarding which specific programs they'll be offering. I'm looking at the general appeal aspect."

The marketing study will be conducted by the Office of Adult Learning Services of The College Board, located in New York City. The study will include five components: a demographic analysis of the area within a 60-mile radius of the proposed center, a survey of area adult learners and local and national companies to determine the precise nature of their demands for educational services, an analysis of educational services presently available in the area, along with the degree to which they are used, and an evaluation of EMU's readiness to participate in meeting the assessed demand.

The study is expected to begin no later than the end of February and will "take about six weeks,"

"On the one hand it will assure the EMU people of what we are already convinced of, that Romulus is the right place for such a facility . . ."

according to McAnally, who says she has been working on this program "ever since I took office, and even before that to an extent."

The cost of the study is $70,000, of which $25,000 will be paid by the city, $25,000 by the university, $15,000 by the Romulus Economic Development Corporation (EDC), and yet another $5,000 from a yet-to-be determined source at the university.

McAnally said that while EMU has expressed a desire to simply buy the land and build the facility itself, she would rather the city keep the land, hire an outside developer to build, and in that way keep the project on the tax rolls.

"If they do it that way and lease it," McAnally said, "we will have the additional benefit of the taxes, but nothing is written in stone. They would rather completely own University Park. Those things will be worked out as we go along."

"I see this as a project which could compliment the proposed EMU Corporate Training Center in Ypsilanti Township," Wilbanks said. "The programs we see as having the most potential for the Romulus center are language and international trade, travel and tourism and selected general business programs."

"This is another example of Eastern Michigan University working in partnership with a municipality to further economic development. In this instance, an innovative proposal was developed by Mayor McAnally, which is compatible with our educational mission as defined by Governor James Blanchard. We look forward to learning the results of the survey and to furthering our relationship with the city of Romulus."

The contract for the study will be formally recommended for approval to the EMU Board of Regents at its next regular meeting on Feb. 27.

According to McAnally, work could begin on the project as early as "early summer."

Motorist charged in auto fatality

John Wesley Adams, 22, of Westland, is scheduled to face preliminary examination before 34th District Court Judge James B. Stone in Romulus today on a charge of manslaughter with a motor vehicle.

James F. Peters, 52, of Northville, was killed in a bizarre accident last week when Adams allegedly lost control of his car and drove into a street sign on Merriman Road near the I-94 expressway, propelling the sign into the air and through the windshield of Peters' car. Peters was pronounced dead on arrival at Westland Medical Center.

Romulus Det. Sgt. Sam Chalton said police believed death "was instantaneous due to a severed aorta." The aorta is the main artery that carries blood from the heart.

Adams is free on $7,500 bond and faces a maximum penalty of 15 years imprisonment, if found guilty of the charge.

On the increase Construction boom hits Romulus

By STEVE O'LEARY
ANP Staff Writer

The Romulus Building Department has reported an increase in revenue for 1984, an amount nearly double that of the 1983 figures.

Estimated construction costs tripled over the same period, representing an increase of $10 million.

In 1984, the building department collected a total of $107,913.50 in permit fees, up from $54,086 in 1983. Total estimated building costs within the city jumped to $15,349,025 from the previous years $5,428,993.

Building director Dave Paul claims that the figures "are the best the city has had for at least three or four years."

"There were a lot of factors that helped with this upswing," said Paul. "For one thing, the improvement in the economy has been a contributing factor. But the real lift has come from Mayor (Beverly) McAnally and her administration's policy of selling the city of Romulus to businesses and industry. It's really been a group effort all around."

"The yearly report from the building department is very, very good news indeed," said McAnally. "I think a large part of it is due to being in the right place at the right time. I'm very pleased."

McAnally added that "we have a staff here at city hall that is very aware of what it is we're trying to do. All of the departments, from someone in the DPW, who goes out of their way to make things easier for a businessman, to someone in the clerk's office, who does the same, all are working towards our final goal."

McAnally says that her goal is "to realize the potential that we see and sell our city's image, which is an excellent product."

"The final credit for an outstanding year such as we had has to go to the building department, but everyone really helps. It actually is a group effort," the mayor said.

Paul claims that the onset of the Romulus Economic Development (EDC) has "been a big plus in bringing business into the city, as have tax abatements."

"We try and work people through the bureaucratic process as quickly as possible, helping them cut through all of the red tape is one of our primary concerns in the department," Paul said, adding that the city planning commission "has really been on the ball," sometimes having as many as 15 items on their agenda for approval.

According to Paul, one of the "selling points" in Romulus' favor is its location.

"It's easy, because what other community can match us in that way? We're near two freeways, have two railroads and, of course, we have the airport. For a business, that's hard to beat."

On the horizon is a definite possibility that General Motors will build the much-ballyhooed Saturn plant in Romulus. Wayne County Commissioner Milt Mack recently said that of the two possible sites in the area, Romulus and Westland, that he would recommend to Wayne County Executive William Lucas that he point towards Romulus as the best possible site.

No word is expected from GM until late spring on where the plant will go, but the feeling is that whatever city gets the plant, all other cities and townships in the area also will benefit.

Paul concurred with that, saying "there will be a definite uplift to the surrounding communities, both because of new jobs and satellite plants going up."

Paul says that the increase isn't the end of a trend, but rather a beginning. "I'm looking for things to be even better in 1985, and judging from the busy January we had, we'll get it. Things are looking better for Romulus all the time."

Romulus man bound over for trial

A 22-year-old Romulus man has been bound over for trial in Wayne County Circuit Court, stemming from the death of Johnson Rush, 65, of Inkster.

A pre-trial examination on the charge is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Feb. 15 at the Out-Wayne County Prosecutor's Office on Henry Ruffin Westland, for Ray McMillian Jr.

McMillian, who stood mute to the charge at his preliminary hearing Jan. 16 before Judge John McCartney in 29th District Court in Inkster, has been charged with manslaughter after his car allegedly struck Rush on Williams Street in Inkster.

McMillian was charged Jan. 7 with manslaughter after failing to yield at a stop sign in a move that police said caused McMillian's car to collide with another vehicle at the intersection of Williams and Beech streets in Inkster.

The collision caused McMillian's car to jump over a curb where he allegedly struck Rush, as he walked along Williams.

Rush was thrown some 40 feet into a driveway of a nearby house, police said at the time.

He was pronounced dead approximately one hour later at Westland Medical Center.

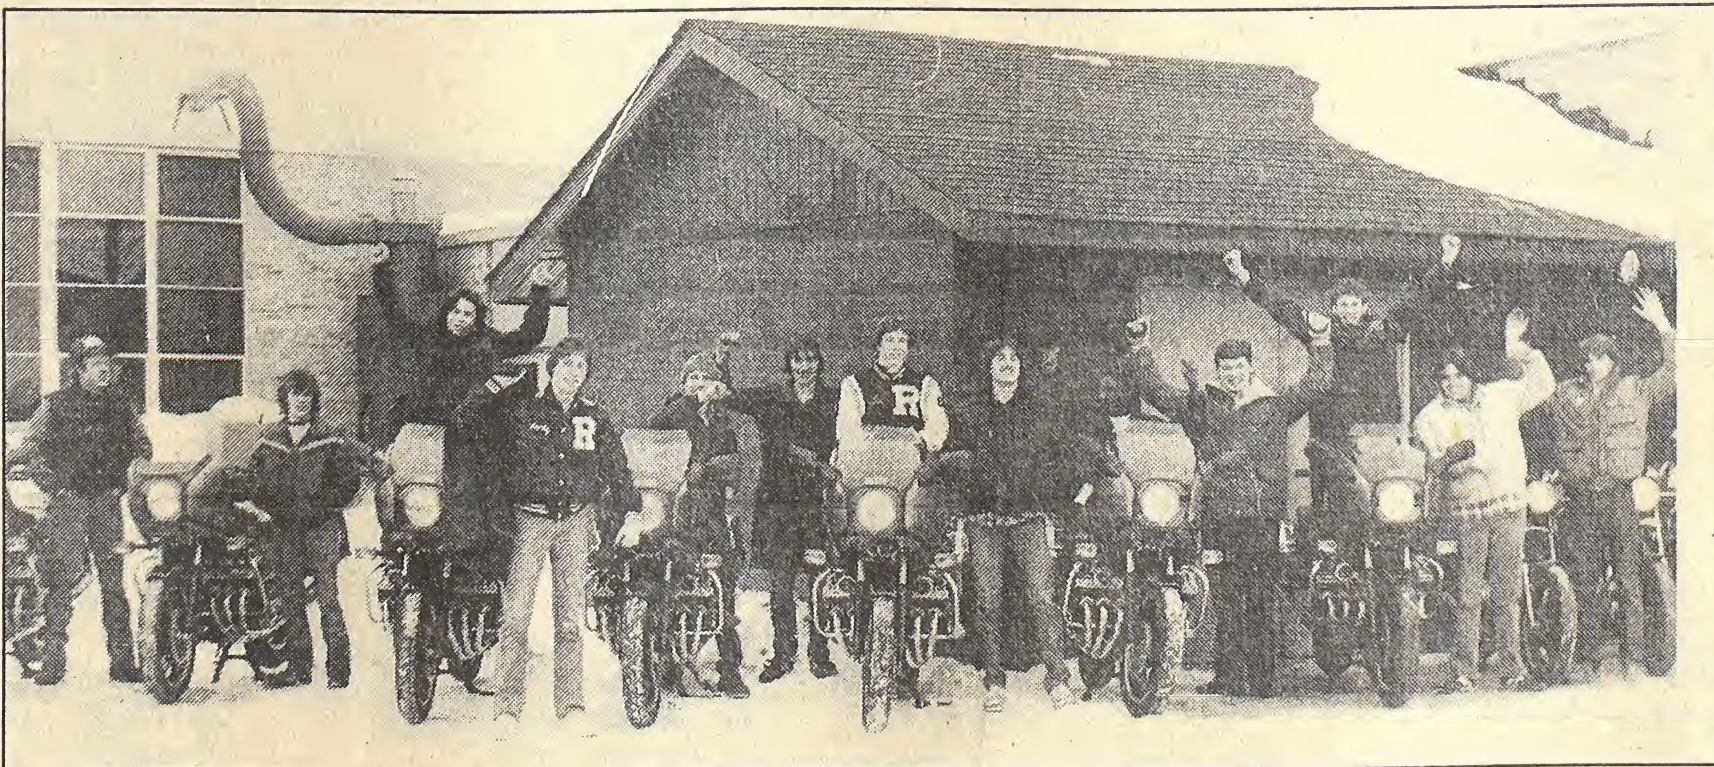

The driver of the second car was not charged, police said.

Honda helps students learn

Romulus Senior High School students were recently the recipients of 10 new motorcycles donated to the school's recreational vehicle repair program.

The donation to the school was part of a nationwide program established by the American Honda Motor Company to enhance and assist in the training of motorcycle technicians in public schools. More than 10,000 motorcycles were donated to schools across the country by Honda, with a value in excess of $5 million.

The motorcycles will be used by instructor Doug Hoffman to train students as motorcycle technicians and prepare them for the state master motorcycle mechanics exam. Each student in the class is required to completely disassemble, diagnose, trouble shoot, repair and reassemble the complete motorcycle, KAHLE . . . who once intrigued his eighth grade math class with a one-sided piece of paper and received a toothpast frosted birthday cake for his tremendous efforts in taming the unruly class, will again coach Barth basketball teams. The fifth and sixth grade teams have been sponsored by the Romulus Community Schools in cooperation with the Romulus Recreation Department.

Teams will practice Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week with games to be played at South Junior High on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Hi, Mr. Kahle, I still don't believe you choked down a whole pice of cake in an effort to spare my feelings before you realized that you had been had.

SAFETY . . . will be the topic of the assemblies to be held by the Wayne County Sheriffs Department on Friday, Feb. 22, for Barth boys and girls.

A FINAL SETTLEMENT . . . has been worked out with the original building contractors to replace the defective roofs at Barth and Halecreek Schools. Once the new roofs are installed, repairs and replacement of the ceiling, floor tiles and carpeting will be made.

HALECREEK STILL HAS . . . a few Romulus Games for sale. Contact Halecreek School, 16200 Harrison, Romulus, phone 942-0140. Price is $9.95. Check with you tax preparer for a possible partial deduction.

MY APOLOGIES . . . for not having the Space-age Schools information this week. Time did not allow me to speak with all the necessary persons. I will try again next week.

WANT TO SEE YOUR GROUP'S ACTIVITIES IN THIS COLUMN? Phone me at 942-0919. Again, thanks for your response: Kristine

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

Juan Street
Defense, the way 6-5 Romulus sophomore Juan Street plays it is paying off for the Eagles these past few weeks. Juan has been given tough defensive assignments by Coach Al Wilkerson and "He hasn't failed us yet." Juan also contributed 11 points, nine rebounds and had four assists in helping the Eagles defeat Taylor Center 66-55 last week.

Samuels Keith
Another defensive standout is 6-1 Romulus sophomore guard Samuels Keith who is described as one of the fastest and a very deceptive cager on this year's outstanding Romulus team. Keith tossed in 10 points and had six rebounds while blocking two shots against Taylor Center. He also was credited with three loose ball recoveries and connected on five of his seven shots from the field.

Conference covers problems of unemployed

A conference on what the unemployed can do when having difficulty paying utility bills will be the first of four free Wednesday afternoon conferences in February being sponsored by The Working Channel.

Each weekly conference will be held simultaneously at 10 community centers spotted around the tri-county area. Subsequent Wednesday conferences will deal with health care, food and shelter and coping with unemployment.

Audiences at the 10 conference sites each Wednesday will be linked through live, interactive telecasts over the new, non-profit cable channel for the unemployed, The Working Channel. Wayne County Intermediate School Center, 33500 Van Born, Wayne, will be the conference site for Western Wayne County.

The first conference in the "Getting Over ... Getting Through" series will be held today (Feb. 6) from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Utility and resource agency representatives and consumer advocates will be on hand at each conference center.

Crossroads, a local theater group, also will perform a skit about paying utility bills when you're unemployed that was especially created for the conference's live telecast.

The 2½-hour conference will rotate twice between untelevised group discussions at each conference site and live, televised panel discussions in which the 10 site groups will interact by phone with the panel of officials at The Working Channel studio.

Issues raised during untelevised group discussions at the sites will be reported to the studio panel by phone to help shape its televised discussion. In turn, the televised discussions and Crossroads dramatic vignette will be used by the site groups to help focus their untelevised discussions.

Over the next three Wednesdays in February, this same format will be followed at the same times ans sites and over The Working Channel to deal with problems conference attendess are experiencing in health care (Wednesday, Feb. 13), food and housing (Feb. 20) and in other survival problems associated with joblessness at the final conference on Feb. 27.

"Getting Over ... Getting Through" also can be viewed over The Working Channel may also be viewed at more than 75 viewing centers in Detroit and the surrounding suburbs.

The Conference will be held each Wednesday afternoon in February at the following local community centers; Henry Ford Centennial Library, Room 113A, 16301 Michigan, Dearborn; Wayne County Intermediate School Center, 33500 Van Born, Wayne, and UAW Local 387, 24250 Telegraph, Flat Rock.

Pre-registration is required to participate in any or all of the four free conferences. The unemployed may preregister for the conference site nearest them by calling The Working Channel at 577-4203. Information also is available at that number about which cable systems carry The Working Channel or College Cable Channel, as well as the locations of the nearest community viewing sites for The Working Channel.

A 24-hour-a-day cable network, The Working Channel is being carried by about 20 cable systems throughout southeastern Michigan. It is operated by the Communication/Information System for the Unemployed (CISU), a consortium of organizations under the leadership of Wayne State University WTVS-Channel 56 and the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

CISU is funded by an annual federal grant being administered by the Governor's Office for Job Training and the Michigan Department of Labor, a grant from the Hudson-Webber Foundation and grants from area Private Industry Councils.

Study Club meets

Seventeen members of the GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club were present for the Jan. 16, meeting held at the home of member Sandra Lauth. Refreshments of ribbon Jell-o and a birthday cake, honoring member Connie Etter, were provided by Nancy Sawyer.

The topic of study for the month was the Special Projects, Departments and Divisions within the General Federal of Women's Clubs, which is the international parent of the local group.

Club members voted to cancel the traditional card party, held annually as a fundraiser for the Genevieve Clark Scholarship, and instead hold a "no-bake" bake sale.

The Genevieve Clark Scholarship is given annually to a single, female parent, who wishes to further her education. Community members who normally support the scholarship by attending the card party may still support the project by not baking an item for the "no-bake" bake sale, and contributing the money thus saved to the Genevieve Clark Scholarship Fund. This year's goal is $250.

Robbe Farm Museum Restoration Project Chairman Diane Wilson reported that the members of the community-wide steering committee have been selected and are being notified at the present time. The steering committee will hold its first meeting in February. Members also voted to donate approximately 40 copies of the local "monopoly-type" Opportunity Van Buren game to the Van Buren Public Schools as a GFWC Free Enterprise Project.

SHAPEUP TIPS FOR INDOOR SPORTS

Ready for vigorous movements, jumps, gyrations and twists during indoor recreation? Let your chiropractor give you a thorough exam to reveal any spinal distortions, vertebral subluxations, or entrapped nerves that could give you pain instead of pleasure during your sports programs.

Ask your chiropractor for guidelines on how to use but not abuse your body during your particular activities.

Will you be pushing your muscles, ligaments and joints to extremes? With proper techniques as approved by your chiropractor, you should be able to enjoy almost any sport without paying physical penalties.

Your chiropractor will recommend warm-up and flexibility exercises to limber up your muscles for any physical activity.

Center's aim: Develop skills of unemployed

Extension Job Training (EJT) is currently expanding its services to the unemployed, with training available in the field of horticulture and a new training program for handicapped young adults and special education students. EJT also is operating a referral center for services to the unemployed throughout southeast Michigan.

There are 90 openings for training in the programs offered at the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, located at 5454 Venoy Road, Wayne. All of the training is free to those who are eligible. The training is designed for each individual's needs and includes job placement assistance upon completion.

EJT trainees receive training and guidance in career planning. Employment proficiency skills are developed, which includes resume writing, interviewing and application techniques. Practical living skills are offered as well, and counseling is available throughout.

The new handicap program provides a variety of training opportunities. When participants are ready for placement, the program places them into on-the-job training positions. The employer receives a subsidy of up to half of the trainee's wages to complete vocational training for a minimum period of four weeks. At the end of this period, the trainee will become a permanent employee.

EJT also offers additional services such as screening for tax credit eligibility and accessing various community resources. The staff also will work with employers to provide qualified workers and other services.

For more information, contact Extension Job Training at 721-6578, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or visit the center in Wayne.

Extension Job Training is funded in part through grants from the Wayne County Private Industry Corporation. Cooperative Extension Service programs are open to all without regard to race, color, national origin, sex or handicap.

Democrats' 9-bill plan to address child abuse woes

House Speaker Gary Owen (D-Ypsilanti) has unveiled a nine-bill child protection plan that addresses the growing problem of child abduction and child sexual abuse.

"Television docudramas and the news media have made us all painfully aware of the emotional trauma a family experiences when their child disappears, or becomes a victim of sexual abuse," Owen said. "Democratic lawmakers are taking the initiative with a series of bills that may help prevent a child from being victimized or assist in resolving cases involving a victimized child."

The bills address the following issues:

- 1) Centralized and immediate reporting of missing children;
- 2) Voluntary fingerprinting of children;
- 3) Amending current law to make all parental kidnapping of children a felony;
- 4) Criminal records check for employees of licensed day care centers;
- 5) Require reporting of criminal histories and the compilation of a statewide computerized criminal history system;

- 6) Redefinition of and penalties for child cruelty and child torture in criminal code;
- 7) Increased penalties for child solicitation;
- 8) Allow videotaping of child witnesses who are victims of abuse;
- 9) Require the Department of Social Services to provide Child Abuse Prevention Packets to all parents with children in licensed day care.

In conjunction with the nine-point plan, Owen also has announced the convening of a special Child Protection Conference in mid-April.

The nine-bill package, which has garnered sponsors from as close as Detroit to as far away as Drummond Island, isn't a cure-all solution for the problem, according to Owen but may help in preventing children from being victimized or assist in resolving cases involving a victimized child.

A recent nationwide survey reported that 50,000 children are abducted by strangers each year, that another 100,000 are the victims of parental kidnapping, and that 1.5 million are reported as runaways. It is estimated that at least 50,000 cases a year are never solved.

Achievement is honored

Ray Cantrell and Kathy Holden of the Lower Huron Chemical and Supply Company, 13541 Huron River Dr., Romulus, were recently awarded a Certificate of Achievement for having successfully completed a seminar held in Toledo, Ohio, by Spartan Chemical Company, Inc. for the sales professional.

Lower Huron Chemical and Supply Company is an authorized distributor of Spartan's full line of chemical specialty maintenance products.

Firm gets contract

A large business in Romulus is benefiting from defense contracts awarded by the Defense Construction Supply Center (DCSC) of Columbus, Ohio.

The center has announced the award of a contract for $97,492 to Detroit Diesel Allison GMC, 36501 Van Born Road, Romulus, which will produce coolant pumps for use by the U.S. military services.

Nine out of ten DCSC contracts — and more than half of the center's purchase dollars — went to small, minority and woman-owned businesses. DCSC is a field installation of the Defense Logistics Agency of Washington, D.C.

Show comes to Belleville

An art show of winning posters in Detroit Edison's 18th annual Electrical Safety Poster and Comic Strip Contest will be coming to Belleville.

The display will be at the Wayne-Monroe Division Headquarters at 8001 Haggerty Road South in Belleville throughout the month.

The contest encourages safe activities around electrical installations and caution around fallen wires and is featuring Detroit Piston superstar Isiah Thomas.

The safety contest was open to young people throughout the company's Southeastern Michigan service area and was divided into two categories, kindergarten through sixth grade and seventh through 12th grade.

The younger group was asked to design a poster that encouraged safe playtime activities around electrical installations or fallen and hanging wires.

For the first time since the contest began 18 years ago, seventh through 12th graders were asked to create a comic strip featuring Detroit Edison's safety spokesperson Isiah Thomas that promoted safety with electrical appliances and equipment.

Winners were selected from each of the company's six divisions. Twelve overall winners were chosen from the division finalists. Awards were presented to the overall winners and all participants in the contest received a safety iron-on decal.

Poster winners in the Wayne-Monroe Division included Crystal Pitcock of Joseph Sterling Elementary School, Carleton, in the first- and second-grade category.

In the comic strip category Romulus Junior High School students Cina Jackson and Terri Smith placed first and second in the seventh grade judging. Fellow students Shane Paszkowski, placed first in the eighth grade category, with Kim Martz, placing second and Roger George third.

In the ninth grade judging, Henry Spooner of Airport High School, Carleton, placed third.

Winter's hazard for Old

A free booklet, "A Winter Hazard For The Old," can be obtained by simply sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Harper-Grace Hospitals, Public Relations, 3990 John R, Detroit, 48201.

The booklet explains that accidental hypothermia can be deadly, if not detected promptly and treated properly. It can be accidentally triggered by mildly cool temperatures ranging from 60 to 65 degrees Fahrenheit.

Hypothermia is a condition marked by an abnormally low internal body temperature 95 degrees Fahrenheit or lower. It usually occurs within a period of a few days and frequently to the elderly.

Supplies of the booklet are limited.

Handicapper's handbook

The Metropolitan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, an organization serving the disabled for 47 years, has just completed the third printing of its Handicappers' Handbook.

This 53-page booklet serves the disabled by providing information on where to go and who to contact on such diverse topics as government aid, camps, employment, orthopedic shoes and many others.

This free handbook can be obtained by contacting: Metropolitan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, 1127 Whittier, Grosse Pointe Park, MI 48230, or by calling 881-4278.

Porter promoted

An executive appointment has been announced at the Hydra-matic Division of General Motors Corporation by Thomas R. Zimmer, General Manager.

Fred C. Porter has joined Hydra-matic Division as divisional society of Automotive Engineers.

Winter fun day

"Winter Fun Day — Snowsnakes and Snowshoes," an afternoon of outdoor activities will be held at the Nature Center of Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock on Sunday, Feb. 10, from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Two activities are planned to take advantage of Winter's white mantle. Snowsnake throwing, an original American Indian sport, and an inning or two of baseball on snowshoes will help cure cabin fever. Programs will proceed only with proper snow depth. Persons should contact the Nature Center for program confirmation. (Snowshoes are available from the Nature Center in most sizes.)

This program is free, however, advance registration is required.

For information or registration, contact the Nature Center at Oakwoods Metropark at 1-800-552-6772.

A vehicle entry permit is required.

It's not too late

It's not too late to enroll your child in preschool. The Oakbrook YWCA Co-op Nursery still has openings this winter for 3 and 4-year-olds.

The Co-op Nursery, sponsored by the YWCA of Western Wayne County, is located in the Oakbrook Club House, 30521 Elm Lane, Romulus (Near Eureka and Middlebelt). Classes are held on Monday and Wednesday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Tuition is $15 per month.

To register or for more information, call Pat Gores, chairman, at 941-0584 or Pamela Cronewett, area director, at the YWCA of Western Wayne County, 561-4110.

Safety outweighs image

Many public officials have been known to cringe each time a local crime story is detailed in the press.

Crime symbolizes a negative aspect of modern living, they say. Reporting of criminal activities often scares the residents of a community, they claim. And most importantly, the presence of crime tarnishes the image of a city or township.

Many would prefer that the media would concentrate solely on the positive developments in their communities. They would have us overlook the so-called negative news, notably the incidences of crime.

What often remains overlooked is the fact that crime is a very real concern for all of us. It certainly will not diminish through our apathy and neglect. Quite the contrary, we can only combat crime through a recognition of its impact and an open discussion of its presence.

It would appear to us that knowledge of what types of crimes are being perpetrated is a critical element in any program designed to deter and prevent such crimes. How can we as a community participate in preventative anti-crime measures if no one is willing to admit or even aware that a problem exists?

Negative publicity depicting the City of Detroit as the "murder capital" has not enhanced the image of the area. It has made suburban officials extremely sensitive to crime as a catalyst for a poor image. Yet, lack of media coverage will not eradicate crime; knowledge and openness are elements of any effective solutions to crime control.

Such frankness comes on rare occasions. The ensuing results, however, are positive. In Canton Township, for instance, local officials and members of the police force are beginning to openly deal with a police department study which revealed critical problems in the department. Police Chief Jerry Cox has resigned in the aftermath of the study's release.

Now we do not suggest that one resignation will clear up police unrest. That would be naive and inaccurate. But what this study and the formation of a committee to openly evaluate police matters has accomplished is to bring a tough subject into a setting of meaningful communication.

Has the reputation of the Canton police force been tarnished? We contend that an open airing of Canton police problems will lead to significant solutions that will far outweigh any short-lived image concerns. We commend Canton officials for their courage to stand up to a negative situation and publicly seek some answers.

Crime will not cease simply due to our failure to recognize its ugly presence in our neighborhoods, on our streets and in practically every corner of our communities. The issue of tantamount importance then is one of public safety and not image.

Scouting legacy

The Boy Scouts of America will be 75 years old on Friday.

Over the years some 70 million Americans have been members of this organization. In the Detroit Area Council, which serves Wayne County as well as parts of Oakland and Macomb Counties, more than 43,000 young people how are being taught the meaning of the Scout Oath:

"On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight."

The Boy Scouts' organization strives to develop good traits of character in young people, to instill in them values of good citizenship and to encourage youngsters to become physically fit. This week Boy Scouts throughout the country will celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of their organization with the theme of "Pride in the Past ... Footsteps to the Future."

An appropriate theme, since this organization has instituted many innovations over the years to keep abreast of changing times. But first and foremost, the Boy Scouts of America is a source of fun for youngsters from all walks of life and from all races and creeds.

We take the organization for granted. At 75, many of us are in our twilight years ... but not Boy Scouting. We wish this American institution a happy diamond anniversary — to every Tenderfoot Scout and every Eagle Scout, to the new 7-year-old Tiger Cub, to the more than 400,000 Explorers and to all the other members and volunteers.

The Boy Scouts of America's legacy is not only of the past, but also of the future.

Ashes, ashes all fall down

Man, from his earliest beginnings learned that fire was to be taken seriously. Although fire offered benefits, it often became the instrument of pain, suffering and death — turning all in its path to ashes.

When I see someone "lighting up," I can't help but think about the similarities between smoking and the very essence of fire. Both should be approached with great caution, recognizing that the potential for irreversible harm is always present — for oneself as well as to others.

"Ashes to ashes, dust to dust," I've heard repeated at funerals of acquaintances, friends and loved ones through my years. It makes one think of the childhood game that goes, "Ashes, ashes, all fall down." A once-mighty forest, ravaged by fire is reduced to ashes which falls to the ground and returns to the earth.

All too quickly we will all "fall down," returning to the soil from which we, metaphorically at any rate, came. I'm therefore often puzzled as to why otherwise thinking people choose to foul their air intake and that of others by smoking. Why, despite clear, documented research and warnings by the surgeon general of the United States, do so many proceed to knowingly inflict great bodily harm upon themselves, their loved ones and strangers?

In my mind, it's as though they are bent on slow self-destruction, intentionally turning their once strong bodies into burnt out shells, ravaging their lungs and internal organs until they are clogged with poisons that are known producers of cancer, emphysema and so many other diseases. In time, like the woods that once stood tall and proud, their bodies are gutted like the burnt forest, reduced to ashes. They become stooped, coughing, gasping diseased creatures who can only be pitied when, inevitably, they sadly fall and return to ashes.

Harsh words and greatly exaggerated the smokers will say ... not so, say I. How many have seen a cross section of a diseased human lung versus a cross section of a healthy specimen? The blackened, diseased smoker's lung is clearly, to the naked and unprofessional eye, damaged and heavily impaired. Emphysema patients suffer a dramatically reduced life expectancy — usually filled with agony.

As with many families, mine was, in my youth, infested with smokers. My grandfather, a chain smoker for many years, died of heart problems directly related to emphysema. A once proud entrepreneur, with a sharp mind for numbers, he would gasp for air after a short brisk walk at the airport trying to help carry a suitcase. Once his doctor diagnosed his illness, he stopped smoking, fought back, exercised on a machine daily in an effort to recapture his health. He never did.

My dad smoked cigars most of his days. I sat with him and the doctor in a small examining room at old St. Joseph's Hospital in 1974. He had first been in Annapolis and we transferred him to Ann Arbor once we realized the prognosis was so serious. He was philosophical with the doctor. They talked and shared a conversation laced with humor.

Thanks, officer

To the Editor:

I wish to publicly thank Officer Kreg Booker of the Romulus Police Department for the courteous care and concern he showed me when I slipped off of I-94 into a deep ditch. Most of all I want to thank him for being there when he was needed not only by me but by others.

Thanks too, to the two men who were first to stop, as well as the other officers who came. Thank you.

Leadership needed

To the Editor:

The Girl Scouting year is well under way — many troops in the Wayne-Westland area have been organized and the girls are busy making plans for their year's activities. However, leadership is needed for some Brownie and Junior Troops.

Several Girl Scout troops are on hold. These girls are still waiting for leaders so they can join in the fun of Girl Scouting.

Volunteers are the central force in bringing Girl Scouting to girls. Girl Scout leaders can acquire valuable training and job skills for themselves, and help girls make their lives better and have fun. Many adults have discovered an outlet for their creative talents and skills, developed friendships while helping girls grow and have fun. Women and men can be volunteer leaders in the Girl Scout program.

For information on the volunteer opportunities available call Annette Myles, at Girl Scout office, 483-2370.

Special relationship

To the Editor:

We the Elks Brothers and Daughters of Inkster say "Thanks," to Mrs. Marjorie Frazier and Inkster senior citizens for the opportunity of serving and entertaining you at the annual Senior Citizens Christmas Party.

A very special human relationship has been established between us in the last five years, because of this growth and the love that exist, we look forward to year 1985, that we may continue with this program, enlarge its benefits and enjoy the fruits of our labor.

You have helped to make our year successful.

Words of praise

To the Editor:

Everyone needs a word of praise now and then in their jobs.

I would like to praise the Romulus DPW men, who are clearing the snow off the streets of Romulus. They are doing an excellent job.

I am a letter carrier working out of a postal truck. The winters make my job very difficult. Thanks to the Romulus DPW, they have made it a lot easier. Keep up the good work.

Kosteva proposes property tax relief

State Rep. James Kosteva (D) of Canton has introduced a bill that would provide additional property tax relief for homeowners and renters for the 1985 tax year.

The bill, co-sponsored by 38 of Kosteva's colleagues, would implement Gov. Blanchard's proposal for a 10 percent rebate "bonus".

"Property taxes have escalated in the last 10 years from inflation and increased pressure from schools and local government. This rebate would go directly to homeowners and renters that have faced this inequitable burden," said Kosteva.

The legislation, if adopted, would return the $65 million surplus projected by the Governor in the 1985-86 state budget.

At the present time, Michigan's property tax credit program gives taxpayers an average credit of $400. Under the proposed legislation, the average bonus would be $40.

Kosteva explained that this action does not preclude an accelerated rollback of the income tax should additional surplus funds become available.

"I hope this effort can be Chapter One in a complete book of tax relief and reform," said Kosteva.

"Tax policy in Michigan is still a patchwork quilt of good intentions laced with special interests. In the end what's presented in a confusing and often unfair pattern to Michigan residents and businesses."

The freshman legislator said the one-time only bonus is possible because of the State's improved economy and the fiscally conservative budget the Legislature enacted last year.

Kay Perry (right) was at the Westland City Hall recently to give the city a very important item . . . a check for $9,336, which represents 5 percent of the gross revenues for the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1984, that was generated by Continental Cablevision. Perry presented the check to Westland City Council President Charles Griffin. As of Jan. 25, the cable television system had 6,718 homes in the city wired with the basic cable service. According to Perry, the firm is installing cable in more than 100 homes per day and estimates that by the end of the third quarter, will have 15,000 homes turned on to cable television.

Cable television inspections scheduled to begin in Westland

The random inspection of cable television installations will get underway in the City of Westland this month, following approval of an agreement with Marty's Electric of Wayne to do the work at a charge of $5 per inspection.

The agreement was approved by the City Council at a special meeting Jan. 28, ending a dispute between the city's legislative body and Mayor Charles Pickering over how the inspections would be conducted.

The random inspections, which will affect 10 percent of Continental Cablevision subscribers, was recommended by the city's Cable Television Commission late last year. The council concurred with the recommendation and opted to award a $28,000 contract to Cable Management Associates, the firm hired to oversee the cable installation on behalf of the city.

The mayor vetoed the contract, contending that the agreement had not been reviewed by himself or City Attorney Jeffrey Jahr. He also maintained that the inspections could be handled through the city's building department by an outside contractor for as low as $5 per inspection.

The council failed to muster the necessary votes to override the veto, and as a result requested that the administration seek bids for such a program, with those bids to come before the council at its Jan. 21 meeting.

The mayor complied with the council's request, recommending Marty's Electric be awarded the contract. The council, however, delayed a decision until it could be reviewed, and a recommendation presented, by the cable commission.

The cable commission concurred with the mayor's recommendation, according to its chairman Eric Radcliffe, who noted that the firm met all of the bid specifications, in addition to submitting the lowest bid.

Marty's Electric under bid the four other firms who responded to the request for bids, proposing a cost of $7,000 for the inspection program.

The city will be divided into 16 areas, with some 84 inspections to be conducted in each of those areas. That figure will vary in those areas with a higher concentration of cable hookups.

The inspections will take place between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays, or a time requested by the subscriber, and should take approximately 10 minutes to complete. They are to be completed by the end of this year.

It was lung cancer and I was scared. It seemed my worst fears were confirmed when, days later, they told us it was inoperable. It was just a little more than a year later, at Garden City Osteopathic Hospital when my father died. The humor was all gone. Radiation, breathing machines and finally morphine induced hallucinations marked his final days. He died a slow and painful death. That was the price he paid for always enjoying "a good cigar."

All these memories were prompted by a conversation I had last week with a man much younger than I who "wants to stop" smoking but can't seem to do so. I have a strong concern for his welfare because I like him. I hope he has the fortitude to quit. I'm told that 85 percent of smokers at one time or another "try" to quit but do not succeed.

I have done my feeble best not to inflict my values on others. One is entitled to opinions and the opportunity to express them. From there on, we can all choose our own poison. These newspapers contain advertisements for cigarettes — that doesn't mean we endorse smoking. We carry advertisements for political candidates too. Some we think deserve to be elected, and some we do not.

The fact is, I do resent smokers inflicting their smelly, polluting habit on me and other non-smokers. The damage that smokers do, unfortunately, is not only to themselves. Their smoke is inhaled by those who breathe the air they foul and pollute — doing as much damage to their lungs, if enough is inhaled, as if they were doing the smoking.

Smokers not only burn holes in their clothes, smell up their cars, homes and offices, but pollute ours as well. Smokers burn scarring marks in desks, holes in chairs and, too often, reduce a building or forest to cinders.

The price in lives, health, let alone property, is too great to pay. Reality is that all too soon we will lose the most precious gift of all . . . life. Why shorten it knowingly, destroying ourselves from inside out by "lighting up"?

It's your choice . . . but there is nothing funny about "making an ash of yourself." Why not give it another go, quit smoking and live longer.

See you next week.

Ford eyes action on errors

Congressman William D. Ford has asked the commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service to act promptly on ways to ease the plight of 22,000 Michigan homeowners currently facing higher 1984 Federal income tax bills due to computer error.

Because computer programs failed to work, a number of mortgage companies failed to pay property taxes from escrow accounts by December 31, 1984 on the 22,000 Michigan homes. As a result, the homeowners will not be able to claim interest deductions for the entire year unless a solution to the problem is found.

Ford asked the IRS commissioner to come up with ideas to remedy a "unique and costly situation."

Bank promotes two

Wyandotte Savings Bank recently announced the promotion of two persons within its branch banking division.

Linda Domingue has been named manager of the Bank's Goddard-Mortenvue office in Taylor. Domingue replaces Allan Pixley, who has been assigned other duties within the branch division.

Roxanna Kocher was appointed assistant manager of the Bank's Dearborn Heights office on Van Born Road.

Domingue was born and raised in Southgate and is a graduate of Schaefer High School. She joined Wyandotte Savings Bank in 1973 as a teller and has held various positions within the branch division prior to being named manager of the Goddard-Mortenvue office. She has actively represented the bank for the past several years as a Junior Achievement Project Business consultant and is currently pursuing studies toward an associate's degree in banking and finance at Wayne County Community College.

Kocher is a lifelong resident of the Downriver area, with 17 years of banking experience. She joined Wyandotte Savings Bank in 1969 as a teller. She also has served as a discount note teller, commercial loan clerk and, most recently, customer service representative prior to being named assistant branch manager of the Dearborn Heights office.

Kocher's education includes numerous classes through Wayne County Community College, as well as the American Institute of Banking.

Wyandotte Savings Bank has been serving the Downriver area for 113 years and has 15 offices located in Wyandotte, Taylor, Dearborn Heights, Romulus, Brownstown Township and Var. Buren Township.

Health care insurance programs set

Two cost-free programs on "Health Care Insurance" will be presented next week by Oakwood Hospital's Department of Community Health and Health Education at the Wayne Community Center, 4635 Howe Road, Wayne.

"Medicare," the federal health care insurance program for people 65 and over, is the subject of one program to be held from 1:30-4:30 p.m. Feb. 3. The other program is on "General Health Insurance" for people 65 and under and will be given from 7-10 p.m. Feb. 11.

Both programs will include presentations from S.J. Axelrod, M.D., professor emeritus at the School of Public Health, University of Michigan. In addition, the programs will provide opportunities for small group interaction.

Through the programs, participants will be able to understand and appropriately use health care insurance terminology; understand distinguishing features of the major types of health care insurance; and understand the reasons for maintaining a record-keeping system.

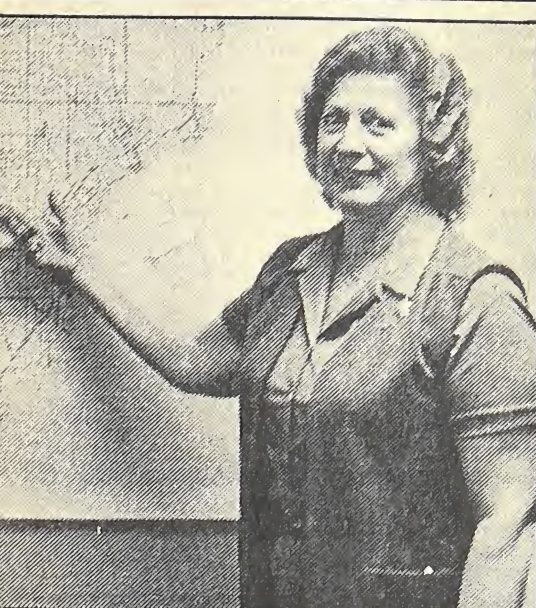

The "Medicare" session will assist participants in identifying their Medicare coverage (Part A and Part B), ensuring qualifications, and the application of deductible and copayment features; comparing the gaps in Medicare benefits with supplementary insurance offered by "Medigap" policies; and determining eligibility for Medicaid.

The "General Health Insurance" program will focus on such areas as Blue Cross Blue Shield, commercial insurance, the health maintenance organization (HMO), and the preferred provider organization (PPO).

Through this session, participants will learn what comprises a health insurance policy, such as benefits, limitations, premiums, and who pays a premium, and recognize the relationship between group and individual coverage.

These programs are the first of several planned by the department as part of Oakwood's Community Health Promotion Program, which is supported by funding from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek.

Registration is required for both programs. For more information, and to register, call 593-7248.

Wondrous Wayne whips Belleville for No.14
Zebras tie all-time school win streak record

On the verge of making history, Wayne Memorial is one victory away from setting the school's all-time basketball winning streak record. Coach Chuck Henry's Zebras maneuvered into position Friday night with a lopsided 89-57 victory over visiting Belleville.

That victory, Wayne's 14 consecutive triumph of the campaign — against no losses — tied the mark set by the 1962 club. If the Zebras defeat Ann Arbor Huron (a game played last night), they will own the record.

"These kids have worked hard and long to get where they are today," said Henry. "And this school and the community are very proud of them."

Henry warned that Huron, with a 11-2 over-all record and rated No. 2 behind Wayne in the Metro West ranking, is a "power to contend with." Obviously, we can't rest on our past performances. We still have a long road ahead," Henry commented.

With a perfect 8-0 Wolverine "A" Conference mark and with Fordson trailing with two losses and seated in second, Wayne needs to stop Trenton Friday night to tighten their grip on the conference championship. Wayne has not won a basketball title in the last decade.

Pollis Robertson tossed in 13 of his game high 27 points in the second period to lift Wayne to a 48-29 advantage over the visiting Tigers who stayed close only for eight minutes. Belleville trailed by three, 15-12, after the opening period.

Wayne left little to speculation in the second half as the Zebras galloped to a 21-4 edge in the third period while Henry had an opportunity to substitute freely.

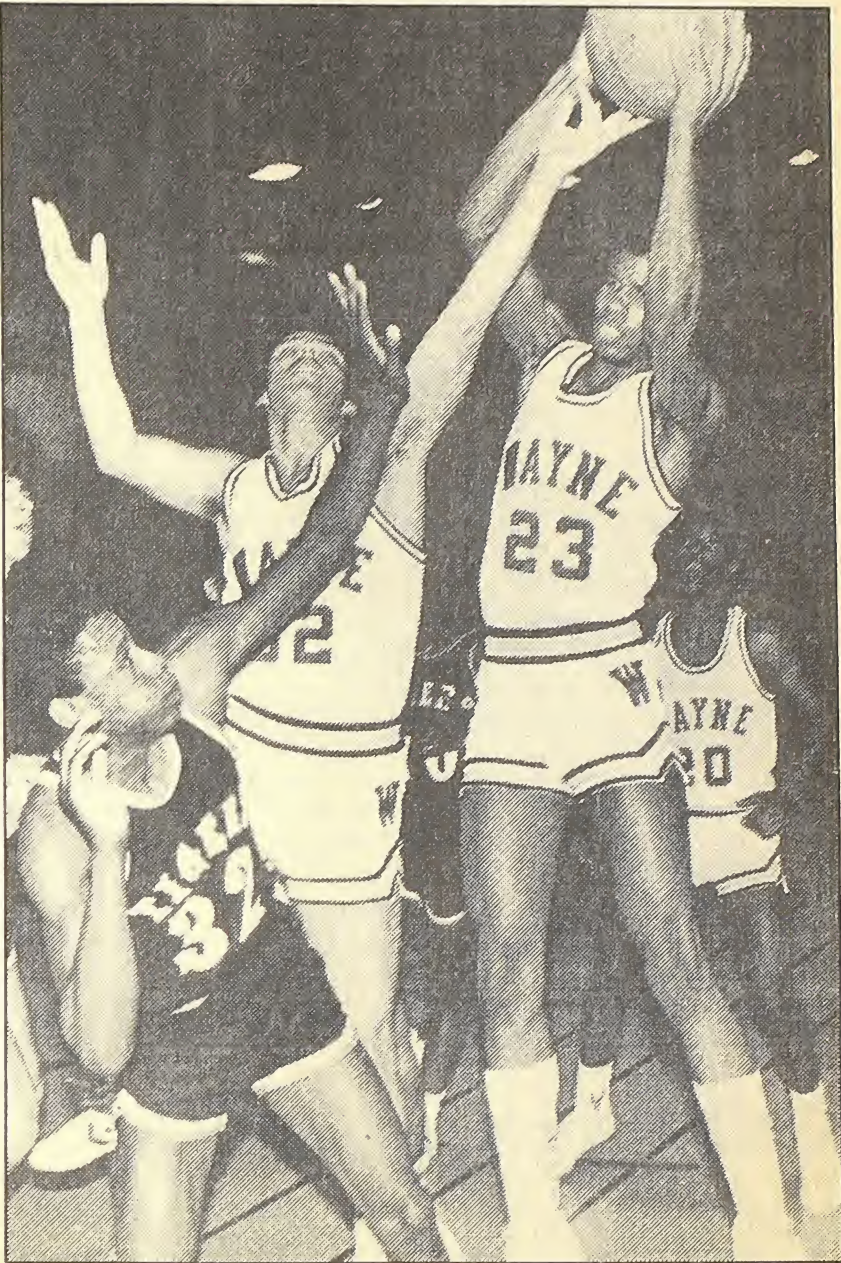

Belleville Coach Leon Birdyshaw was disappointed that his team "couldn't have made more of a game of it."

"After that first period," Birdyshaw commented, "we just didn't play well. Wayne has an outstanding team this year, and it's tough for us to match up to them."

Wayne also received a stellar effort from Howard Flowers who sank 11 field goals and made one

Earlier in the week Tait graduated from the junior varsity and was given "varsity status" against Taylor Center and the 6-4 sophomore responded with 18 points to pave the Tigers for a 73-64 victory over the Rams. He scored 12 of those points and had 10 rebounds in the fourth period.

Above them all

Sweeping the board for this rebound is Wayne Memorial's Mark Robinson (23) who managed to outmuscle teammate Joel Lloyd (32) and Belleville's Westly Currie (32) under the boards. Robinson contributed 12 points in Wayne's 89-57 triumph, their 14th consecutive win, over the visiting Belleville Tigers.

Wayne finds Glenn easy pickings

Trivia Question: When was the last time a Gordie Davis coached Westland John Glenn team lost two Northwest Suburban League games in one season?

The answer will come later, but for now the Rockets are regrouping after last Friday night's 61-52 loss to North Farmington on the Raiders' home floor.

As a result, the Rockets and the Raiders are tied for second in the NWSL with 5-2 records. Garden City jumped one game ahead of their nearest competitors with a 6-1 record.

"We played even with them through the first half," said Davis. "We didn't contain Anderson but shooting from the perimeter we couldn't do anything about that. I know we can shoot better but we'll take them one at a time."

Last year, when Glenn traveled to North, both teams fought through three overtimes before the Raiders triumphed, dealing the Rockets their only NWSL loss last season. The way the first half went last Friday night, it certainly looked like it would be an overtime affair once again.

The Rockets took an 8-4 lead at the 2:16 mark on a quartet of free throws by Dave Jensen and Phil Koeller. But North, who had been the league title favorite until Glenn knocked them off in December, answered that with a pair of baskets, including a Rich See GLENN Page 3-B

Oak Park is next

Romulus is victory away from title

Romulus can assure itself of at least a tie for the Metro-West Conference basketball championship Friday night when defending champ, Oak Park, pays Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles a return visit.

After destroying Taylor Center 86-55 last week, the Eagles are perched comfortably on top of the league and are a league win away from the title. The Parkers have had more than their share of problems this season.

"But we're not taking them lightly," Wilkerson said. "And we can't be looking past them to Tuesday night's game."

Tuesday night Romulus will host an always-tough Highland Park, which is limping on a .500 record this season.

"People are saying that Highland Park hasn't the talent it has had in the past," Wilkerson said. "Don't believe it. This is also a very talented ball club. They (Highland Park) lost to Robichaud last week but they didn't have their leading scorer in the line-up."

Wilkerson was alluding to 6-4 sophomore Lyman DePriest who is expected to return to the Highland Park line-up this week.

Wilkerson had an opportunity to "play everyone" against Taylor Center which had its problems defending 6-9 junior, Terry Mills, who fired in 12 baskets and hit on two of five free throws for a game high 26 points.

Four other Romulus cagers also hit in double figures. Stevie Glenn racked up 16 points, while Juan Street had 11 and Juan Street and Andrea Jones each had 10.

The game was only close for the opening period.

Glenn is ready for title defense

With only 2½ points to spare, Westland John Glenn captured its own wrestling tournament title, turning back a serious challenge from Southgate Aquinas and Walled Lake.

The Westlander picked up 124 points, two gold medals, two silvers and a bronze en route to the victory on the home mats. Aquinas needed a pin from its heavyweight in order to pile up enough points to surpass the host. The fall didn't materialize.

Glenn will now head into the Northwest Suburban Conference championships where the Rockets are expected to defend their title. The league meet is scheduled for Saturday at North Farmington. Glenn, the defending champ, will carry a 'Trauma time?'

Inkster clashes with title hopefuls

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Inkster High cage coach George Thompson Jr. calls it "trauma time".

Seated atop of the Suburban Athletic Conference where it can be very precarious especially since you're looking down at the likes of Highland Park, Willow Run, neighboring Dearborn Heights Robichaud and Ecorse, Thompson's corps will face top-ranked state opponents in the next two weeks.

"We have what I like to refer to as 'two weeks of trauma' and we're going to have to play exceptionally well in order to survive the blitz," Thompson said.

Last night, Pontiac Northern invaded the Inkster gym and Northern is considered one of the best Class A teams in the state. On Friday, Highland Park is due here for a rematch and next Tuesday, Buena Vista, the Class B defending state champ, comes in for a visit.

With a 10-1 won-lost over-all record and a perfect 5-0 in the league, the Vikings have lived up to their reputation of being "the team to beat."

"But," warned Thompson, "when you're on top everyone is gunning for you and you have to be ready or you can slip into oblivion."

That's what's happening, apparently, to the once mighty River Rouge. Once considered the finest Class B basketball school in the state, the Panthers of late have had their problems finding their way into the winning column. And Friday night was no exception as Inkster buried the Rouge, 96-55.

But the victory wasn't without trepidations. Rouge stunned the Vikings, who had beaten them by more than 30 points the first time around, by putting claim to a 16-13 first period lead.

"I called a 'time out' and talked it over with our players," said Thompson, "and told them that all we were doing is standing around. There was no defense and no hustle at all."

The chat apparently sank in as Jesse Hardy came back and tossed in 10 of his 19 points in the second period and Sharad Lloyd and White each had six to spark the Vikings to a 32-point period and a 45-26 halftime advantage. The rest was just a matter of time.

Hardy finished with a game-high 19 points and Lloyd added 16 while White contributed 14.

Earlier in the week, Inkster also disposed of non-conference rival, Taylor Truman, 92-53, as Lloyd set the pace with 25 points and White supported him with 21. Barry Hardy added 11.

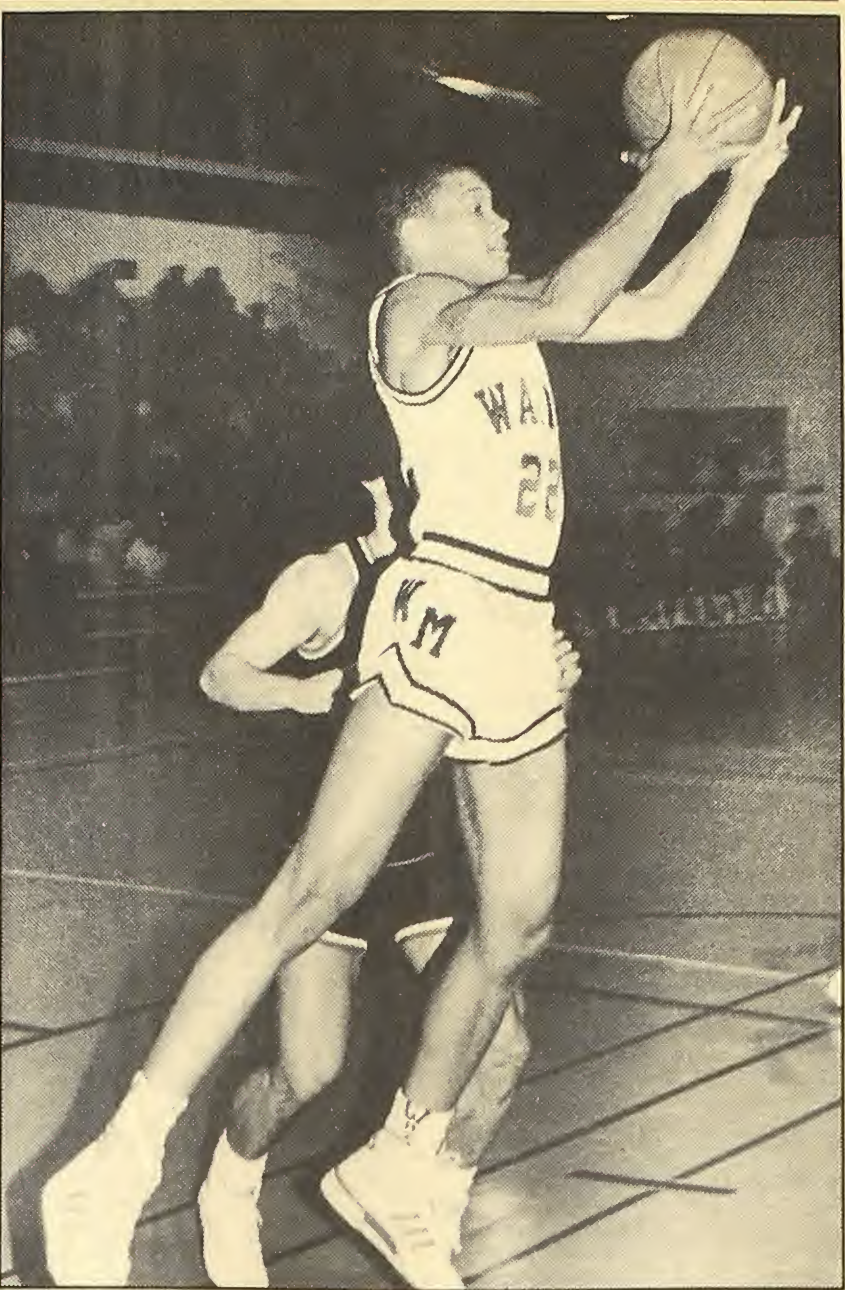

"I saw some really good things from the guys on the bench," Thompson said. "They came off and played defense and displayed a lot of hustle. Players like Barry Hardy, Dennis Walker, Andre Davis, Ray Davis, Troy Singleton and Leslie Cooper are really getting the job done for us."

'Hanker-ing for it'

With a Belleville defender a step behind, Wayne's Gary Hankerson (22) grabs this defensive rebound during Friday night's Wolverine "A" action. The Zebras entered the week with an impeccable 14-0 over-all record and a win last night (over Ann Arbor Huron) would give them an all-time school record for consecutive victories. Story is on Page B-1.

Belleville wrestlers win big at Lincoln Park

Belleville tuned up for the defense of its Wolverine "A" Conference Park Invitational by winning the Lincoln Park Invitational.

Coach Gerry Malecek's Tigers garnered 196 points and five gold medals to pick up the team championship, finishing ahead of "next-door" neighbor, Romulus, which also had five gold medalists and 156 points.

However, before Belleville travels to Wyandotte for the conference showdown slated for Saturday, the Tigers have a testy Romulus on hand Thursday night. The two neighboring rivals will meet at Trenton in a triangular meet. If the Tigers defeat Trenton they'll go into the Saturday championships with a perfect ocnference dual meet record.

And a victory over Coach Wayne Schimming's Eagles would also give the defending champs an untarnished dual meet record for the 1984-85 campaign.

Malecek's sees Romulus as the proverbial thorn in his side.

"They (Romulus) have something to prove," the Tiger coach pointed out, "and that's the toughest kind of opponent you can have. They lost in this (Lincoln Park) tournament, and they will want to show some people just how touch they really are.

"Also, they haven't forgotten the way we came from behind to beat them out of the team championship at our own tournament," Malecek noted.

Belleville definitely will be the team to beat at Wyandotte. In the Tiger line-up are four defending league champs and another who has yet to taste defeat in the Wolverine "A". Bruce Nigg, a 112-pounder, will be out to defend his title as will John Ritchey (112), Darrell Elder (155) and Bob Tansey (167). Elder has amassed a 32-2 over-all record this year while Michael Beckley, a 132-pounder, also sports an identical record.

At Lincoln park, Nigg captured a gold at 105 and was also awarded the "Hustler Trophy" for his over-all outstanding efforts. He chalked up three pins and a major decision (19-8). John Ritchey (112), Mike Beckley (132), Darell Elder (155) and See WRESTLERS Page 3-B

Wayne's flea market is Sunday

The Wayne Wrestling Boosters will hold a "flea market" in conjunction with their annual AAU Junior Wrestling Open Tournament. The market will be held on Sunday, Feb. 10, beginning at 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. in the basement cafeteria of the high school.

The public is cordially invited. For further information telephone 595-2218.

State park cabins offered Year-Round

Within 30 to 90 minutes of your Michigan home, tucked away in quiet wooded tracts of many of Michigan's State Parks, are rustic trailside and frontier cabins available to the public to rent year-round.

Whatever winter recreational sport you're enjoying this time of year, these cabins, equipped with gas lights and crackling wood stoves, provide a close, cozy quiet place to stay while enjoying those activities for just $20 a night.

Hundreds of Michigan families each year reserve these cabins for long or short vacations the year-round, so early reservations are suggested.

Further details and reservation applications may be obtained by calling the State Parks listed, or contacting the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Parks Division at 517-373-1270.

Wayne retains swim-diving invitational title

'Depth' pays off for Zebras

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Although they could muster only one individual championship, defending champ, Wayne Memorial, put together a line-up that had the "over-all depth" to retain the Wayne Invitational Swimming & Diving Invitational title.

Coach Jim McPartlin's tankers on Saturday emerged from a field of eight area teams with 251 points to outdistance neighboring Livonia Franklin which garnered 233 points.

Pennala field goal on a pass from forward Rick Anderson, that gave the Raiders a 10-8 lead at the first quarter horn.

If points were hard to come by for both teams in the first period, they came fast and furious in the second as Anderson and Glenn guard Mike Baydarian lit up the scoreboard. And as well they should because both players are their respective teams' leading scorers.

closed the gap to 48-42. But Anderson continued his masterful performance with 12 more points to bring his game-high total to 36. Buddy Pope put the game on ice with three free throws for the 61-52 victory, thus making the Raiders a part of Rocket history as the team that gave the Rockets their second league loss in a season for the first time since 1976-77.

Earlier in the week, the Rockets suffered an 86-66 defeat at the hands of crosstown rival Wayne Memorial, as Howard Flowers led the undefeated Zebras with 28 points. Pollis Robertson tallied 21 points including two slams that nearly brought the house down (not to mention the baskets). Glenn was led by Mike Baydarian with 20 points and Steve Hawley with a career-high 19.

The Zebras and Rockets stayed fairly close to each other through the first half, ending the first period at 14-13 Zebras. But Flowers' 16 second-quarter points did the Rockets in and the Zebras led at the half, 42-31.

They steadily pulled away in the second half as Robertson and Flowers kept up their hot touch and got help from Spencer Williams who had 18 on the night.

The JV Rockets improved their record to 11-2 as they upset Wayne, 55-54, on Andy Grazulis' basket with three seconds left.

Wrestlers compete for league titles

Doug Chapman (198) also won tourney titles.

The Tigers were runners-up with Bob Tansey (167) and James Bashar (98).

In the meantime, Romulus continued to flex its muscles as the Eagles boasted five winners at the same tournament thanks to Tracey Cline (heavyweight), Joe Mabelitini (98), Jim Schlenker (126), John Montroy (138) and Vince Morris (167).

"Winning five weight categories shows we do have some outstanding talent," Schimming said, "but I feel that also having three wrestlers out of our line-up due to injuries cost us. We hope to have everyone back for the districts."

Musical 'Mattress' coming to Stockmeyer Arts Center

The musical "Once Upon a Mattress" will be performed by students of John Glenn High School at 8 p.m. Feb. 15 and 16 and at 3 p.m. Feb. 17 in the Stockmeyer Performing Arts Center at Wayne Memorial High School.

Cast in the lead roles are Ginger Reddy as Winnifred; Mary Greenfield, Lady Larkin; Beth Healy, queen; Rich McLaughlin, Dauntless; Dan Cooney, Jester; Damon LaRiveria, king; Tim McIntosh, minstrel; Dave Drews, Sir Harry, and Don Holderness, wizard.

The play revolves around the attempts of Prince Dauntless to find a wife. Each prospective princess is required to pass a test and the results produce light-hearted entertainment.

Students cast in the roles of ladies include Pam Cardell, Angie Cunningham, Betsy Dyke, Stacy Glinski, Becky Kolacz, Ramona Marshall, Christa Murphy, Larissa Seifert, Tracey Shaw, Debby Vesperman and Diana Zobel.

Performing as knights will be Tim Brown, Kevin Bryant, Brian Burket, Joe Gedman, Steve Kostora, Chris Pruner, Frank Slade and Troy Stevens. Dream dancers are Sue DeBrincat, Rich Mailloux and Debby Vesperman.

Tickets, priced at $3.50, will be available at the door. The center is located on Glenwood at Fourth Street.

The magic of the theatre will come alive on Friday and Saturday as the Plymouth Community Arts Council presents "Footlights and Foolishness" at Plymouth Salem High School. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

Aspiring actors, actresses, singers and dancers will perform the "Footlights and Foolishness" Follies. Local residents, 19 years of age and older, are encouraged to participate.

Tickets are priced at $7 for main floor and $5 for balcony and students and may be purchased at the Mayflower Hotel lobby. Further information may be obtained by contacting Shirley Peters at 455-0463.

Trix in Wayne

There's a new sound at the Olde Wayne Saloon, 34830 Michigan Ave., compliments of Trix, a band that specializes in rock 'n roll, including vintage oldies and top 40 hits. Band members Rick Harman (left), Gary Martin, Rick Dines and Kevin Pyle provide live musical entertainment each Friday and Saturday night, beginning at 9:30. Trix also will be featured at a special Valentine's Day party at the saloon on Feb. 14.

John Glenn High School students Don Holderness (left), Beth Healy and Damon LaRiveria are among the lead performers in the upcoming production of the musical "Once Upon a Mattress." The play will be performed Feb. 15 through 17 at the Stockmeyer Performing Arts Center at Wayne Memorial High School.

Buddy Rich concert scheduled Feb. 11

Some people believe the Big Band sound is coming back.

For Bernard (Buddy) Rich, the Big Band era has never ended. Rich will bring his classic talent to the Huron High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. next Monday for a concert presented by the Huron Civic Theatre. Tickets are priced at $10.

Ever since he toddled onstage into his parents' vaudeville act, Rich has been in show business, entertaining audiences with his rare talent. He has supplied the beat and driving force to numerous musicians on television, records and in night clubs.

Rich and his band, featuring Steve Marcus on tenor sax, will headline the special performance, the only local stop on Rich's current concert tour.

The auditorium is located at 32044 Huron River Drive in New Boston. For tickets and further information, contact Joanne Elliott at 782-1505.

CANCELLATIONS AND CORRECTIONS

Read your ad carefully the first time it appears, and report any errors before the next edition. This will be the only proof you will receive. Errors should be reported immediately, as Associated Newspapers, Inc. can be responsible for the first incorrect insertion only. NO CASH REFUNDS WILL BE MADE.

PUBLICATION POLICY

The publisher reserves the right to edit or reject and properly classify advertising submitted for publication. Publisher shall not be held liable for typographical errors except to the extent of the cost of first insertion and then only for that portion of ad that may have been rendered valueless by such error. Advertisers are advised to check their ad immediately after it appears in the paper and report at once any error found. Claims for error adjustment must be made immediately after ad is published.

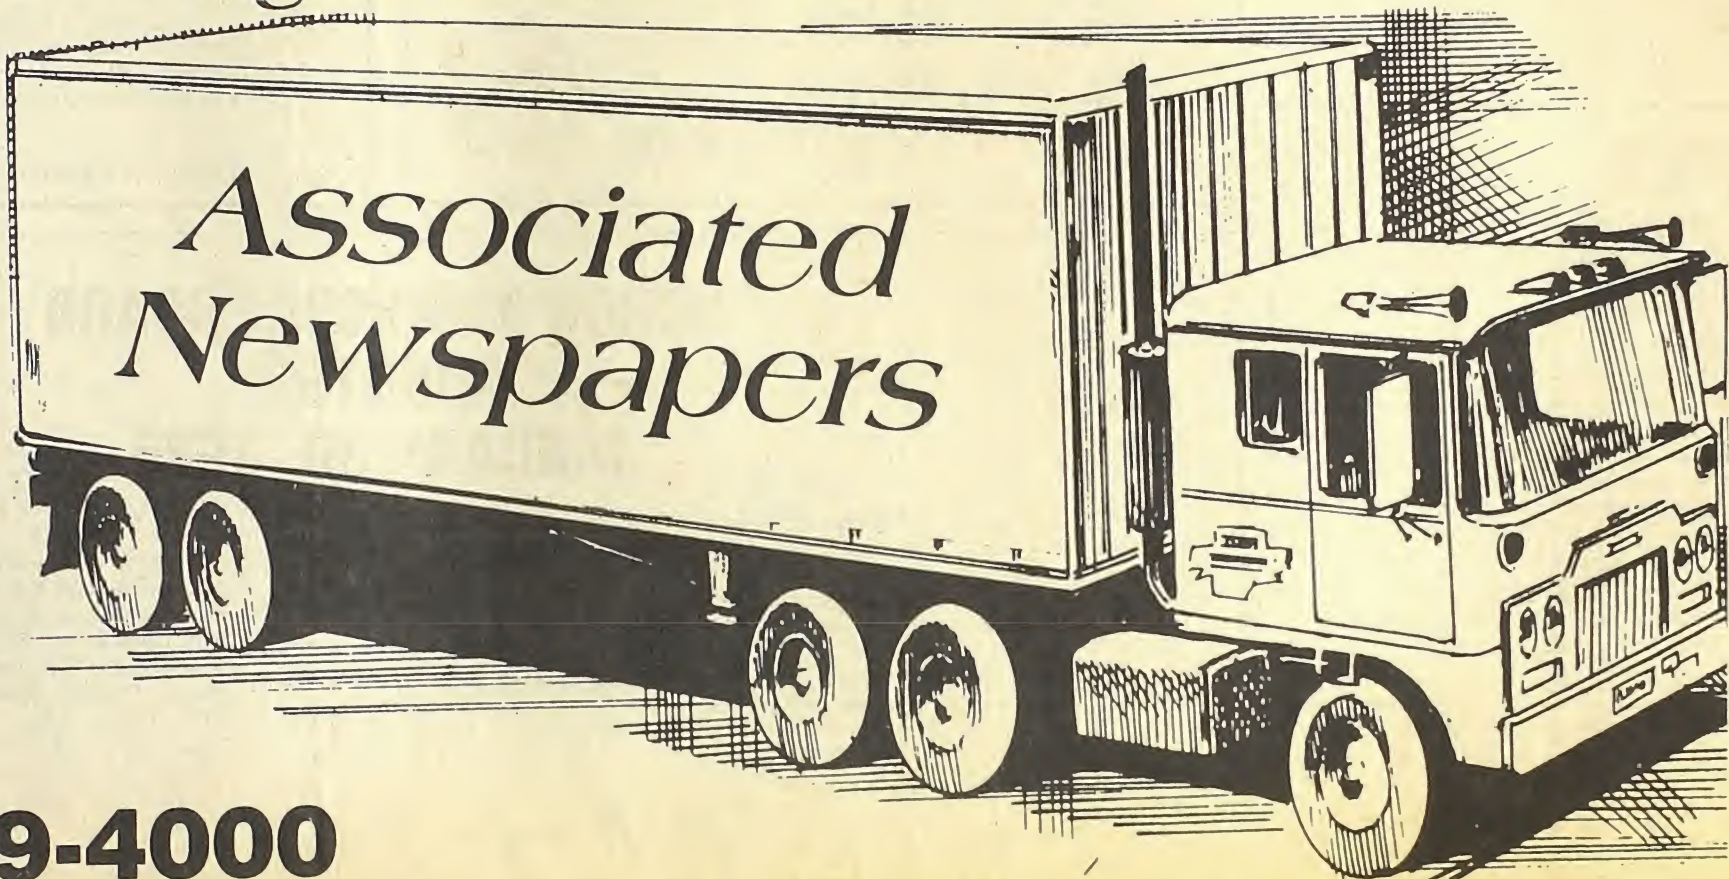

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED AD

1. IT'S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the name of the item or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale, it's better to start your advertisement with the location.
2. BE CLEAR. Readers react more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite information. One of the most important considerations of any advertisement is to include the price.
3. MAKE IT EASY for the reader to reach you. ALWAYS include your telephone number or your name and address if you do not have regular hours; state a preferred time to have prospects contact you.
4. PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like to know (about your offer). The answer you give will make a good classified ad.
5. CLASSIFIED READERS are usually interested in buying used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are in the market to buy. Give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.
6. CLASSIFIED ADS THAT FAIL to do so through a lack of readability, but because they are often quickly worded and do not contain enough information to prompt action.

How about some tax trivia?

(Prepared by the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants)

Taxes certainly are not trivial. If you treat them lightly, you are bound to be pursued by the government. However, the Michigan Association of CPAs thought you might enjoy playing a game of tax trivia to help raise your tax IQ. Can you answer the following questions without peeking at the answers at the end?

(1.) If you don't itemize deductions, but you do give to charity, the maximum amount you can deduct for a charitable contribution is: (A) 25 percent of contributions up to $100 (B) 25 percent of contributions up to $300 (C) The full amount of any contribution less than $200 (D) You may only deduct a charitable contribution if you itemize deductions.

(2) What is the maximum contribution a single person can make to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA)? (A) $2,000 (b) $2,250 (C) $1000 (D) Only married persons may contribute to an IRA.

(3.) Every taxpayer is allowed one of these; but a blind taxpayer 65 or older is allowed three. What is it?

(4.) True or False. Sixty percent of a long-term capital gain is not taxed, but a short-term gain is fully taxable.

(5.) Find the pair of deductible items — only one pair is deductible. (A) dog licenses, bar examinations fees (B) adoption costs, commuting expenses (C) bad personal debts, investment guides (D) title searches, excise taxes.

(6.) True or False. If you hold two jobs, the cost of commuting from your first to your second job is deductible.

(7.) True or False. While interest rates in general have been heading downward, the IRS raised the interest rate it charges on overdue taxes — and pays on overdue refunds — from 11 percent to 13 percent compounded daily.

(8.) The standard mileage deduction for business-related driving is (A) 14 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles (B) 20.5 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles (C) There is no standard mileage deduction.

(9.) True or False. If a person dies in the middle of the year, no income tax return need be filed for that year.

(10.) Which three of the following are deductible? (A) cigarette taxes (B) mortgage interest (C) loan finance charges (D) business gift under $25 (E) bank fees for a personal checking account.

(11.) Choose one: ACRS stands for: (A) Alimony Credit Reporting Schedule, an IRS form showing compliance with alimony registration rules (B) Accelerated Cost Recovery System, a rapid means of depreciating business property.

(12.) True or False. The cost of hiring a CPA to prepare your tax return is not deductible.

(13.) If two working people are married and file jointly, they are entitled to a two-earner deduction. It is worth: (A) $100 off their tax bill (b) 10 percent off the income of the lower-earning spouse up to $3,000 (C) The two-earner deduction was phased out in 1983.

(14.) The exclusion for interest income from savings accounts is: (A) $100 (B) $200 (C) There is no exclusion on interest income earned from savings accounts.

(15.) True or False. For the first time ever, Social Security benefits may be taxed.

(16.) True or False. You may be entitled to a tax credit for adding storm windows in your home or apartment.

(17.) True or False. If you are single and receive unemployment benefits, you benefits may be taxed if your income is greater than $12,000.

(18.) True or False. You can take an itemized deduction for any medical expenses that exceed five percent of your adjusted gross income.

(19) True or False. You can deduct any casualty losses that exceed 10 percent of your adjusted gross income and a $100 exclusion.

(20.) Bill is a welder and wears protective clothing to shield him from the welding torch. He reports to a union hall to find out where he will work that day. He is entitled to deductions for (select the best answer) (A) The cost of clothing and trip to the union hall. (B) The cost of clothing and laundering it. (C) The cost of clothing, laundering it and the trip from the union hall to work, but not the trip from home to the union hall. (D) The cost of clothing and laundry bills, but none of the traveling costs.

How well did you do?

Stockmeyer elected state board president

Norman Otto Stockmeyer Sr. of Westland, a member of local, regional and state school boards for nearly 40 years, has been elected President of the State Board of Education.

Stockmeyer was elected to serve a two-year term as president of the State Board of Education.

State Board of Education President Norman Stockmeyer (left) received a special honor last week, when his "home" district presented him with a plaque in recognition his selection as president of the state board. The plaque also recognizes the more than 40 years Stockmeyer has served on boards of education. Presenting him with the plaque was Wayne-Westland Board President Kathleen Chorbajian.

tion, which is responsible for leadership and general supervision of public education in Michigan. The vote was 6-0. Barbara Roberts Mason of Lansing was absent and Annetta Miller of Huntington Woods abstained. Other officers elected were Barbara Dumouchelle of Grosse Ile, vice-president; Mason, secretary; Dorothy Beardmore of Rochester, treasurer, and Edmund F. Vandette of Houghton, delegate to the National Association of State Boards of Education. Although records for years of service on school boards have never been kept, it is generally believed that Stockmeyer has devoted more years of service as a member of educational governing boards than any other person in Michigan history. He became a member of the Wayne Community School Board in 1946 after returning to Michigan following World War II service in the Navy. He remained on that board until 1961, when he was appointed to the Wayne Intermediate School District Board, a position he held until January 1975, when he became a member of the State Board of Education. In 1964, Gov. George Romney named Stockmeyer to the Wayne State University Board of Governors and he was elected to an eight-year term on that board in 1966. He served as chairman of the Board of Governors from 1967 to 1971. Stockmeyer also served as a member of the Board of Trustees of the Detroit Institute of Technology, an independent business and engineering school, for 15 years and was a member of the Higher Education Assistance Authority for three years. Last year, Stockmeyer was inducted into the Michigan Education Hall of Fame in recognition of the nearly 75 years of combined service he has given as a member of school and college boards.

Stockmeyer, a realtor, was named to fill a vacancy on the State Board of Education by Gov. William G. Milliken. He was elected to an eight-year term on the State Board in 1980.

Long active in civic and fraternal affairs in Wayne County, Stockmeyer is a life member of the NAACP and at one time served as a member of the board of the ACLU of Michigan. He also is a former president of the Michigan Real Estate Association and the Detroit Real Estate Board.

He served as chairman of the Wayne County Republican Committee from 1957 to 1962 and was secretary of the Republican State Central Committee from 1957 to 1965.

The new State Board President's wife, Lillian, was a school teacher and their four children are all educators; Norman Otto Stockmeyer, Jr. teaches at the Cooley Law School in Lansing; Lona is a Kansas City teacher; Paul is a professor of computer science and mathematics at William and Mary College in Virginia, and Carol is on maternity leave from a high school teaching job in California.

Stockmeyer, who was born in the Huron County community of Caseville, is a graduate of Wayne State University and received his master's degree in business administration (MBA) at Harvard University.

Ford announces nominees

Michigan Congressman William D. Ford has announced the names of 21 Michigan young men and women, including six from Western Wayne County, whom he has nominated for the entering Class of 1985 at the U.S. Air Force, Merchant Marine, Military and Naval academies.

Academy nominees include Robert Kirchner, the son of Peter and Nancy Kirchner of Belleville, Ehab Aryan, the son of Ghazi and Fayza Aryan of Canton Township; Stephen Hubbert, the son of Linda Hubbert of Canton Township; Julie Pucci, the daughter of Paul and Sandra Pucci of Wayne; Joseph Czarniowski, the son of Geraldine Czarniowski of Westland; and Louis Farkas III, the son of Louis and Roberta Farkas of Westland.

Because of the large number of highly qualified applicants, Congressman Ford used the "competitive" method of nomination, selecting 10 candidates for each vacancy that he is entitled to fill and allowing the individual academies to select the persons best qualified from among the list.

The selection of nominees is based on composite of academic factors — school records, junior class rank, SAT/ACT scores, leadership potential, extracurricular activities, athletics, physical fitness and recommendations.

All young men and women interested in seeking nomination for one of the academies for 1986 can write Congressman Ford, Federal Building, Wayne 48184, expressing their desire to attend one of the academies and their reasons for wanting to attend. The deadline for the applications is Nov. 1.

Dr. Bedell discussed the following Items of Interest with the Board: 1) Head Start Report; 2) Roof Litigation Information; 3) MAISL Meeting Schedule; 4) Junior High Activities; 5) NJROTC Trip Report; and 6) Smith Memo - State Aid Audit.

Questions and/or Concerns of Board Members

Member King expressed concern regarding the number of computers for Special Education.

Member Wilkerson inquired about a computer stolen from Lab Class in November.

Member Patterson felt there is a need for a Curriculum Director and inquired about the progress of work being done on the high school auditorium.

Member Berlinn responded that the auditorium work is going very well. He mentioned that bathrooms need repair. Member Berlinn stated the Romulus Wrestling Team was ranked No. 7 in the State. Member Bales stated the Romulus Basketball Team is doing great this year. He informed the Board that Mr. Charles Akey, W. C. I. S., requested to appear before the Board for campaign purposes. The Board approved scheduling Mr. Akey for January 28, 1985, at 7:15 P.M. Member Bales inquired if Auto Lab monies are audited and how repair prices are established. Mr. Carr will check into the matter. Member Bales asked how school equipment was inventoried. Administrators explained inventory procedures.

Junior joined the convertible crowd.

This tiny fellow's "convertible" was advertised in the classified pages. When his parents bought it, they took advantage of a good buy and turned someone's unneeded item into welcome cash.

The great value of classified is its ability to meet the requirements of people of every age, from the very young to the very old . . . and do it effectively and inexpensively.

GERALYNE STARRS
— JAMES HAY

Starrs-Hay

A summer 1985 wedding is being planned by GERALYNE ANNE STARRS of Wayne and JAMES HAY of Royal Oak.

The bride-elect is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Anna M. Starrs and the late Daniel A. Starrs. She is currently employed as a medical assistant in Belleville.

Her fiancé is employed at Detroit Diesel Allison in Romulus.

MARY POSTER —
ROBERT SEETERLIN

Poster-Seeterlin

The parents of Mary Katharine Poster and Robert James Seeterlin have announced their forthcoming marriage.

The couple will exchange their wedding vows on Feb. 8.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Virginia Boring of Gaines and James Poster of Wayne. A senior at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti, she currently is employed by U.S. Appraisal and Research in Flint.

Her fiancé is the son of James and Evelyn Seeterlin of Drayton Plains. An employee of R.A.P. Inc. of Pontiac, he holds a master of public administration degree from Eastern Michigan University.

His name is Christopher

His name is Christopher Adam and he's the second child and second son of Kevin and Julie Judd of Wayne.

Christopher made his presence known at 10:20 a.m. Dec. 17 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, weighing in at 8 pounds, 9½ ounces and measuring 21 inches in length.

He's the new "little" brother of Jonathan, 2, and the newest grandson of Ed and Phoebe Jankowski of Westland and Mark and Grace Judd of Somers Point, New Jersey.

Repeats as great-grandparents are Ed and Stella Jankowski of Detroit, Steve and Phoebe Klemczak of Detroit and Mildred Judd of Wyandotte.

His great, great-grandmother is Anna

Sherman of Wyandotte.

Welcome, home, Alicia Marie

It was a hearty, happy welcome home for Alicia Marie Goins, the newest child of Dave and Darlene Goins of Westland.

The infant made her debut at 6:31 p.m. Dec. 14 at Garden City Osteopathic Hospital in Garden City, weighing in at 7 pounds, 5½ ounces, and measuring 21¼ inches in length.

Her "big" brother is Robbie, age 2.

Grandparents include Charles Brown of Westland and Catherine Goins, also of Westland.

It's a boy

"It's a boy!"
That's the word from Leon and Cindy Smith of Wayne, following the birth of their first child, Leon Michael, Jan. 24.

Leon arrived — four weeks premature — at 10:44 a.m. at Women's Hospital in Ann Arbor, weighing 8 pounds, 1 ounce, and measuring 20½ inches in length.

He's the newest grandson of Ray and Julie Perusse of Wayne and Leon and Loretta Smith of Westland, as well as the new great-grandson of Agnes Perusse of Taylor.

ILLNESS THROUGH HIGH SCHOOL MAKES COLLEGE ACCEPTANCE "IFFY"!!!

Dear Letter Writer:

I desperately need help. I am graduating from high school this year and want to go to college. I was really sick through high school and my grades were not good until my senior year. Can you help me explain this to an admissions director.

Sincerely, JS

Dear Admissions Director:

Please accept this letter in the spirit in which it is intended, i.e. a sincere attempt on my part to provide you with an explanation with regard to my seemingly "low" achievement from ninth grade until the end of my junior year in high school.

As the attached application and supporting documentation indicates, I am presently interested in pursuing an educational endeavor toward a bachelor's degree in communications with a minor in business administration. I would very much like to be a student at your university.

At approximately age 12, I began a series of consistent and back-to-back illnesses that essentially immobilized me and, thus, dramatically affected my ability to perform within the classroom. On a social and/or extracurricular level, I was, for all practical purposes, non-functional. The major manifestation of my illnesses was extreme and extraordinary pain for long periods of time from a condition that was ultimately diagnosed as Severe Chronic Tendonitis of the Left Hip. The diagnosis and resulting recovery was accomplished after visiting seven physicians, ranging from pediatricians to orthopedic specialists and receiving two bone scans, CAT scans, extensive blood work and many, many x-rays. During this five-year period, (age 12 through age 17), I also dealt with Pancreatitis with Elevated Triglycerides, Pneumonia and Tonsillitis, with complications. I was hospitalized and/or bedridden for in excess of 150 days and incapacitated for the majority of the balance of the time.

When all of my physical problems were, at long last, put to rest, I blazed a trail of progressively successful accomplishments and personal growth. Today, as I write and apply to your University, I have managed to "play catch-up" on a less than desirable background and presently hold a solid 3.0 GPA. In addition I am presently employed as a video store manager; am a member of my high school High Tech Committee; have done an internship with a Detroit radio station, was employed as an assistant producer at a Detroit radio station and restored the air-on capabilities of my high school radio station.

As I am sure you will agree, my first three years of high school and the lack of scholastic achievement is in direct proportion to the adversities that I was faced with daily. It is quite clear now that my health has returned that I am a clear-headed, bright, energetic, ambitious individual and student. My personal goals are high and my desire and ability to reach and surpass them is evident.

I would appreciate any consideration you may see fit to giving to my "dilemma" and I would be happy to meet with you, in person, to provide any additional information you may need.

Sincerely, JS

RESOLUTION: JS was accepted in January of 1985 to begin his freshman year at a Northern Michigan University in September, 1985. JS believes that this letter played an impactful role in his acceptance.

Ford opens Personal Service Center

The UAW and Ford Motor Company have opened a Personal Development Services Center for laidoff Ford UAW employees at Hoyt Tower on Eastern Michigan University's campus.

The center is administered jointly by Washtenaw Community College and Henry Ford Community College. Offering a range of job services and training opportunities to laidoff UAW/Ford workers, the center is a satellite of the UAW/Ford Career Services and Retraining Center in Dearborn, one of four such service centers in the southeast Michigan area.

The center is funded by the Governor's Office for Job Training under Title III Job Training Partnership Act funds and by monies allocated for employee development and training in the Ford/UAW collective bargaining agreement.

This funding enables the center to provide personal assessment, career counseling, vocational testing, resume writing and preparation and placement assistance to its clients. Any UAW member laid off from Ford Motor Company may use the center's services, according to Josephine Burke, vocational counselor at the center.

Clients may be eligible for the National Vocational Retraining Assistance Program, A UAW/Ford program which pre-pays laidoff employees' costs of training at any accredited institution in the country. Targeted Vocational Retraining programs are also available. TVRs are highly accelerated training programs in such areas as word processing, security installation and electronics. Center staff also refer individuals to local adult education programs and community support services such as emergency food and housing funds when they are needed.

Both counseling professionals and union representatives staff the center. In addition to a secretary and a records technician, personnel include a vocational counselor, a job placement technician, two participant coaches (laid-off Ford/UAW employees who contact clients initially, conduct orientations, and assist in counseling), and a client services administrator (a UAW representative on loan from his plant who coordinates the services). Job counselors are available to teach employability skills, lead job club sessions aimed at helping clients explore the "hidden" job market, and develop jobs.

Since its opening Oct. 15, the center has had almost 100 clients, reported Burke. Though many clients are unemployed, others are underemployed and are interested in retraining for better job opportunities, she reports.

Commission's report backs crime tax claim

The Commission to Study Prison Needs (CSPN), appointed by Wayne County Executive William Lucas has issued its final report, supporting the latter's contention that residents pay an involuntary "crime tax" due to lawlessness and prison overcrowding.

The 49-page report found that state prison facilities have been "... consistently overcrowded since 1980" and recommends the addition of 2,000 beds immediately, 2,000 more beds during the balance of this decade and another 5,500 beds by the year 2,000.

The committee also found that:

— The unrecovered property stolen in Wayne County during serious crimes in 1983, totaling $194 million, was equal to an 11-mill county-wide property tax.

— Lost wages and medical expenses for crime victims would equal almost another mill.

— Local governments in Wayne County spent $600 million on the criminal justice system — equivalent to a 33-mill property tax.

— There are more private security guards employed in Wayne County than public police officers, at an estimated cost of $160 million — equivalent to a 9-mill property tax.

According to the committee those four findings alone cost every man, woman and child in Wayne County more than $400.

CSPN has recommended the temporary housing of 1,000 felons at the Detroit House of Corrections (DeHoCo), construction of two major facilities in Detroit, construction of a new facility at the DeHoCo site, and the renovation of N-Building on the Eloise Complex in Westland to house 600 minimum security state prisoners and 400 local misdemeanor and ordinance violators.

The commission also recommended specific changes in the law enforcement community's information network to eliminate red tape and make the arrest, prosecution and conviction of repeat offenders more likely. Most of the short-term recommendations were aimed at the most violent repeat offenders, believed to be responsible for a disproportionate amount of crime.

Some innovative solutions put forth by the commission include providing specific incentives to communities willing to accept a correctional facility, and "selective incapacitation" to assure a violent criminal or repeat offender is not released to make space for a non-violent offender with little or no prior record.

The county executive has already signed a contract with Volunteers of America to incarcerate drunk drivers rather than use up needed space in the Wayne County jail.

In a rare departure from the document's fact-oriented character, the report stated, "The cost of crime is our freedom. Crime makes all of us prisoners in our own homes. The bars should not be on our windows, but rather on the cells of prisons yet to be built."

CSPN was comprised of business, labor, religious and political leaders from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

"I pledge to do everything in my power to advance the implementation of your recommendations," Lucas told the members.

Lucas promotes leasing space for fed prisoners

The $31 million agreement was finalized after eight months of negotiations involving representatives from the County Executive's Office, the Sheriff's Department and the U.S. Marshall's Office; and with the concurrence of the Chief Judges of Records and Circuit Court.

Under the Intergovernmental Cooperative Agreement, the cuit Court, Recorder's Court and 36th District Court have agreed that these spaces should meet their projected needs, particularly since Lucas has signed an agreement with Volunteers of America to house drunk drivers.

Lucas concluded: "It is very important that sufficient local space is available to house federal pre-trial prisoners. This lion annually, for 15 years, is being considered by the Board's Public Safety and Judiciary Committee.

Lucas explained that "providing this extra space will accommodate the agreement Wayne County Prosecutor John O'Hair recently reached with the U.S. Attorney General's Office to prosecute violent, repeat offenders under federal law. This pact is patterned after similar agreements between the Marshall's Service and other countries throughout the nation."

"... This is another step in our continuing effort to keep potentially dangerous people out of circulation and return the streets to law-abiding citizens."

federal government will pay $68 per day for 82 prisoners plus any associated medical expenses.

The new Andrew C. Baird Detention Facility (with double bunking) has the capacity to house 1,104 inmates. The old jail houses 753, for a total of 1,857. Subtracting 82 federal spaces and another 10 percent, which can be down at any time for repairs, leaves 1,598 available spaces.

Seventy-five percent of those, or 1,199, will be available for Recorder's Court and 36th District Court. Twenty-five percent of those, or 399, will be available for Circuit Court and other District Courts.

Once the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee rules on the agreement, it must meet with the approval of the full board.

Wayne County Executive William Lucas has submitted a proposal to the Board of Commissioners to provide 82 beds in the old Wayne County Jail to the U.S. Marshall's Service to house federal pre-trial prisoners.

The proposal, which would generate an immediate $1 million, and approximately $2 mil-

Boysville of Michigan is seeking parents to work as Foster Parents in its Specialized Foster Care Program. The position requires skill in working with troubled youth within your own home. In addition to providing youth with the basic life necessities, foster parents work along with the Agency's Social Work staff to help improve the youth's physical, emotional and mental health.

Foster parents through Boysville of Michigan are a part of the treatment team and receive substantial training prior to licensing and on-going training thereafter. Boysville is looking for foster parents that are flexible and possess the ability to work with the social worker, other professionals and the youth's biological family.

Foster parents and their homes are licensed according to State of Michigan rules and regulations and are paid a board rate adequately sufficient to provide for the youth's material needs. Foster parents can be single or two parent families; may have young, grown or no children of their own; should be in reasonably good health and need only have a household income that is adequate for the needs of their own family.

An orientation meeting for prospective foster parents will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 12, in Detroit. Any families interested in becoming foster parents should contact Boysville at least one week in advance. A six-week Pre-Service Training Program, also on Tuesday evenings, will begin on Feb. 19.

If interested or for information, then contact Mark T. Robinson, Supervisor of Foster Care Boysville of Michigan at (313) 963-5228 or (517) 423-7451.

Townships receive Block Grant funds

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners has cleared the way for several Western Wayne County communities, including Huron and Sumpter townships, to receive their collective $328,000 share of the 1984 federal Community Development Block Grant money.

In approving local disbursement of the funds solicited from organizes willing communities with less than 50,000 population and submits a joint grant request to HUD with detailed plans for expenditure of the funds in each community.

Larger communities independently seek funding, like Detroit, Livonia, Dearborn, Inkster and Highland Park.

This year the annual grant

"... The funds for Huron and Sumpter will be used for minor rehabilitation of private homes, sewer and water services."

the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the commission last week released a total of $4.1 million for the 31 communities involved.

Commissioner Milt Mack said the funds for Flat Rock, Rockwood and Huron and Sumpter townships will be used for minor rehabilitation of private homes, street improvement, public parking facilities, sewer and water services, recreation projects and city administration.

A substantial part of the allocation is set aside for loans or grants to persons of low to moderate income to bring their homes up to local or federal building-code requirements, Mack pointed out.

"County Treasurer Raymond J. Wojtowicz will immediately begin printing checks for delivery to various city and townships halls, and work on the projects involved can begin at once," said Mack.

He noted that this is the county's ninth year participating in the Block Grant program, which allocation reaches a total of $46 million brought to the county since inception of the program in 1976. The proceeds are for development projects determined after public hearings at local levels, along with decisions by a 16-member Block Grant Advisory Council comprised of local elected officials.

Following is a list of allocations and participating communities throughout the county.

Allen Park, $150,000; Brownstown Township, $91,347; Flat Rock, $73,816; Garden City, $180,724; Gibraltar, $40,000; Grosse Pointe $88,816; Grosse Pointe Farms, $111,347; Grosse Pointe Park, $160,347; Grosse Pointe Woods, $121,347; Harper Woods, $166,347; Huron Township, $88,816; Melvindale, $205,847; Northville Township, $102,156; Plymouth, $73,816; River Rouge, $161,156; Riverview, $161,347; Rockwood, $73,816; Southgate, $140,724; Sumpter Township, $91,347; Trenton, $145,724; and Wyandotte, $225,224.
